

Science: Robert Pattinson, the most handsome man in the world

Jakarta, CNN Indonesia - Beautiful and handsome criteria are indeed different for each person. Some say that beauty and handsome are seen physically, but some are based on one's personality and some combine both of them.

But it turns out that the scientific calculations aka science also has its own way to determine the beauty and beauty factor of a person. Science confirms that Robert Pattinson is the most handsome man in the world.

The research was also carried out using computerized mapping techniques by Harley Street cosmetics expert, Julian De Silva.
